

INSTITUTO DE COMUNICACIÓN Y DESARROLLO (ICD) COMMUNICATION AND DEVELOPMENT INSTITUTE 2018

BACKGROUND

Instituto de Comunicación y Desarrollo (ICD) is non-profit civic association, based in Montevideo, Uruguay, with legal status approved by the Ministry of Education and Culture. The institution bears a vast experience of more than 30 years in the design and execution of projects aimed to contribute to the strengthening of civil society in its various forms and to strengthen citizen participation in democracy and development processes. ICD carries out dissemination of information activities; applied research; publications, seminars and campaigns; education projects and face-to-face and virtual training; technical advice and consultancy both at national level in Uruguay, at regional in level in Latin America and the Caribbean, and also at global level.

ICD has a long and demonstrated history of policy-relevant research and action-oriented research in areas related to governance, transparency and accountability of public and private actors. ICD has for example completed research projects in the fields of impacts, effects and measurements of corruption and institutional combat against corruption; impact of information and communication technologies; social information and communication; development and democracy actors; regional integration, international cooperation; social responsibility, volunteering and citizen participation.

ICD has carried out project evaluations and institutional assessments and has provided technical assistance to organizations in countries in Latin America and beyond. ICD has a reputation of being an objective, impartial, solid, and thorough institution at national level in Uruguay as well as at international level. Governmental bodies, civil society actors, private companies and international organizations can verify this assertion. In section IV a list of national and international references is presented, which can be expanded upon request.

ICD has a qualified multidisciplinary permanent staff and also works with consultants and specialists in different areas and both all permanent staff and consultants have Spanish as a mother tongue and very strong English language skills. Professional translators (Portuguese, French) also contribute upon demand to ICD's work and activities.

MISSION

ICD's mission is to produce knowledge and promote actions that contribute to strengthen citizen participation and civil society influence and impact in development and democratic life, at national and at international level.

The organization's primary objective is to strengthen an inclusive and equitable democratic development. As such, ICD seeks to strengthen civil society and drive active participation across all sectors. ICD pays special attention to the role organized citizens play in society in the consolidation and improvement of democracy.

STRATEGIC WORKING LINES 2017-2020

- Defending and promoting Human Rights and Civic Freedoms
- Promoting transparency and accountability
- Strengthening of civil society and citizen participation
- Influencing Public Policies

PRINCIPAL PROJECTS AND ACTIVITIES (2010-2018)

DEFENDING AND PROMOTING HUMAN RIGHTS AND CIVIC FREEDOMS

CIVICUS Monitor. Cutting edge research tool built by civil society that aims to share reliable, up-to-date data on the state of civil society freedoms in all countries. An interactive world map allows to access live updates from civil society around the world, track threats to civil society and learn about the ways in which the right to participate is being realised or challenged. ICD is responsible for monitoring 10 countries in Latin American and the Caribbean. www.monitor.civicus.org

Independent Reporting Mechanism (IRM), Open Government Partnership (OGP). ICD is in charge of the assessment of the Action Plans of Uruguay since its first plan (2012-2013, 2014-2016 and 2016-2018). Additionally, ICD collaborated with the evaluation of Argentina's first plan. (2013-2014) www.opengovpartnership.org

Uruguay: civil society influencing Open Government. This Project was oriented to the promotion of the right to access to public information and fostering of citizen participation and influence. Training workshops with organizations of 10 provinces and the elaboration of a handbook were the principal actions during 2014. Financed by the Chief of Mission Fund New Zealand Embassy in Argentina.

PROMOTING TRANSPARENCY AND ACCOUNTABILITY

Rendir Cuentas (Regional Initiative and national activities). ICD is an active member and regional co-coordinator of this Civil Society initiative aiming to strengthen transparency and accountability practices in civil society. Organizations from Argentina, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru and Dominican Republic are also part of the network, which develops activities with other actors such as governmental officials and the academic community. www.rendircuentas.org

Global Standard for CSOs Accountability (International). ICD, as a Rendir Cuentas member, participates in an international community of different organisations and actors from civil society working together to drive and spread the practice of 'Dynamic Accountability'. <http://www.csostandard.org>

Regional Alliance for the Freedom of Expression and Information. In the field of access to public information and open government, ICD gives technical support to the Alliance since 2010, a coalition comprised of 22 organizations from all countries in Latin America. The Alliance defends and promotes freedom of expression and access to public information. <http://www.alianzaregional.net>

Capacity building for CSOs accountability (El Salvador). Training of civil society organizations in accountability and handbook for the development of good practices. Oriented to CSOs receiving public funds. 2015.

Online training on CSOS transparency and accountability (Spain). ICD developed an online course for umbrella organization Development NGO Coordination of Spain, with the support of the Obra Social La Caixa. Topics: transparency, accountability, social responsibility. 2015 <http://formacion.coordinadoraongd.org>

CSOs accountability (Ecuador). In the frame of the project "Constructing transparency in practice" (2012), ICD provided consultancy services to Ecuadorian Civil Society Organizations for capacity building in transparency and accountability. This was an initiative of the Ecuadorian Centre for Environmental Law supported by the National Endowment for Democracy.

Let's be Transparent (Transparentemos) (Chile). In 2011 and 2012, ICD developed a training program and technical consultancy for 60 Non-Profit Civil Associations in Chile for the integration of transparency and accountability standards. The Avina Foundation in Chile and the Multilateral Investment Fund of the Inter-American Development Bank commissioned ICD for this endeavour.

Regional Fund for the Promotion of Transparency, FONTRA (Regional). In alliance with the Partnership for Transparency Fund (PTF), the Multilateral Investment Fund and private companies in the MERCOSUR Region, ICD has managed since 2006 the Regional Fund for the Promotion of Transparency (FONTRA). Thirty social organizations in Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Bolivia, Paraguay and Uruguay were supported to execute programs aimed to reduce costs of corruption, especially at the public sector.

STRENGTHENING OF CIVIL SOCIETY AND CITIZEN PARTICIPATION

Training course about civic participation for civil servants in El Salvador. Representatives of the Public Health, Education, Internal Affairs and Economy Ministries participated in the course, as well as delegates of the Anti-corruption and Citizen Participation Office and other offices of the Executive Power. 2015

Online training course about access to information and citizen participation, with Cláritas Foundation, Argentina. The 18 weeks 'course was centred in citizen participation and Access to information as a tool for influencing public policies. More than 200 participants from all countries of Latin America and the Caribbean attended this regional virtual training course. 2015. www.fundacionclaritas.org

Citizen consultation about the internationalization of Montevideo. Research done for the local government of the city of Montevideo to gather information and opinions among different actors about the international policies of the Montevideo. 2014-2015

Dialogues and Propositions (Diálogos propositivos). With the objective of assessing the participation of civil society in public policies, and identifying principal challenges, ICD conducted in agreement with UNDP a series of meetings with qualified representatives of civil society mainly to generate joint proposals. 2014

Civil Society at the Crossroads. International initiative and think tank. ICD worked together with PRIA in India, CDRA in South Africa, PSO in the Netherlands, INTRAC in the United Kingdom and EASUN, Tanzania to explore the shifting roles, capacities, contributions and challenges facing different segments of civil society nationally and internationally. The initiative generated stories in 16 countries (Uruguay, Chile, Argentina, Malawi, Zimbabwe, South Africa, Uganda, Tanzania, India, Cambodia, Indonesia, UK, Netherlands, Greece, Russia and Ireland, plus a number of citizens' movements in the North and South). Research papers and articles targeting decision makers and the academic community have been presented in national policy sessions and the international fora. http://www.pria.org/civil_society.htm

Systematization of actions and projects (2005-2010) of the Small Donations Program (PPD), which is funded by the Global Environment Fund (GEF) and implemented in Uruguay by the UNDP. ICD was responsible for the systematisation and elaboration of the publication "Local solutions to global environmental challenges". www.ppduruguay.undp.org.uy

CIVICUS Civil Society Index (CSI). Participatory needs assessment and action planning tool for civil society around the world, with the aim of creating a knowledge base and momentum for civil society strengthening initiatives. ICD implemented the CSI in 2003-2006 with the support on PNUD Uruguay and in 2009-2010 con with the support of the United Nations ONEUN program. www.civicus.org/news-and-resources/reports-and-publications/csi-reports

Research about financing mechanisms of civil society in the South Cone and Brazil. This work was done within the framework of a project of the Mesa de Articulación de América Latina y El Caribe with the support of the European Union. The regional comparative research (South Cone, Brazil, Andean Region, Mexico and Central America) was also committed to ICD. <http://mesadearticulacion.org/proyecto-regional/>

Installed capacities in civil society organizations in Uruguay. The study and systematization was carried out within the framework of the cooperation agreement signed between the National Association of NGOs (ANONG) and the Uruguayan Agency for International Cooperation (AUCI). <http://goo.gl/UmmJes>

Handbook for volunteer organizations. "Voluntariado(s)" a handbook for the management and training of volunteers was launched in 2011 with the support of the Ministry of Social Development (MIDES), UNICEF and United Nations Volunteers (UNV) <http://goo.gl/BydGLN>

National survey of volunteering in Uruguay. In agreement with the Office of Planning and Budget (OPP), the Ministry of Social Development (MIDES), United Nations Volunteers programme (UNV) and the UNDP, ICD carried out in 2009 a public opinion survey of national coverage. <http://goo.gl/RxR92o>

ICD created and manages since 2002 the first Virtual Community about Civil Society: Civil Society Online. This is an information system including a virtual full-text library (articles, books, documents, other documents), electronic newsletters, opportunities for online training, social networking, among other features. (www.lasociedadcivil.org) It is complemented with the Rendir Cuentas Virtual Community, specialized in transparency and accountability (www.rendircuentas.org) and the Mapeo de Sociedad Civil (www.mapeosociedadcivil.uy) a platform gathering information of more than 2.500 non-profits in Uruguay.

INFLUENCING PUBLIC POLICIES

Strengthening subnational governments' capacities in Open Government and citizen participation. Proposal led by UNDP for generating technical inputs aimed at the strengthening the capacities of subnational governments of Uruguay in open government. The research focused on the analysis of the current situation of local governments in Uruguay in the dimensions of the open Government and proposed a number of actions for strengthening of these dimensions. 2016-2017

Training of municipal governments in Mercociudades network. ICD has developed multiple virtual and face-to-face training activities for local authorities and members of the civil society organizations in the preparation of regional projects. ICD also supports the technical secretariat of Mercociudades based in Montevideo, in design and editing of publications and communication tasks. www.mercociudades.org From 2012 until now.

Open to the Public Eyes: Social Accountability and Social Monitoring (International). In the framework of this international project supported by the European Union, ICD trained local officers from municipalities in Argentina, Chile, Paraguay and Uruguay, and elaborated didactic handbooks and other educational materials. 2016
